DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-22 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to a triazine of formula 1 classified in class 544, subclass 197.
- II. Claims 5-18 drawn to various cosmetic/dermatological composition of compound of formula I, classified in classes 514, 252, 524 etc, subclasses 241, 300, 100 etc. depending upon choice of other ingredients.
- III. Claim 8, drawn to synthetic polymer of glass containing compound of formula I, classified in class 424, subclasses various depending upon the choice of the structural make-up of the polymer or glass.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

As per MPEP § 803, there are two criteria for a proper requirement for restriction between patentably distinct inventions:

- (A) The inventions must be independent or distinct as claimed and
 - (B) There must be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is required.
- Both conditions are to be met with.

Inventions I and III are independent and distinct from each other because they are directed to structurally dissimilar compound such as a triazine core and polymer with varying core. Consequently, the groups have different classifications and require separate prior art searches. Their method of making and their uses are distinct as evidenced by applicants' specification and several references cited in the Information Disclosure Statement. Art, which may render obvious or anticipate one of the groups would not necessarily do the same for the other group. Each can support a patent, as the compounds of each group are capable of being utilized alone not in combination with other members listed in the Markush group.

Inventions I and II are related product and the process of using the product as cosmetic/dermatological composition... The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the process of using the compound of claim 1 can be practiced with another materially different product. See references cited in the IDS as well as instant complex claims wherein several additional ingredients including triazines are recited as useful for the said composition. Similarly, it is clear from the claims that the prior art that the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as cosmetic composition, dermatological composition and composition to stabilize various material including synthetic polymer and glass.

In addition, searching all cores of compounds, the various processes of using different ingredients and their limitations, which is mandatory, in different all classes/subclasses, would be a serious search burden.

Art Unit: 1624

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Norman Stepno on early August to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Hence, the restriction is set forth in writing.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
